County Fair Starts Today At Indio

Riverside County Fair and Coachella Valley Date Fiesta begins today, February 4, as the big day in Indio, when the newly-born Date Fiesta swings into line with the reinstituted Riverside County Fair. A program has been arranged that will not only be like a fraternal meeting of county and state officials and the people, but will really mark progress in Coachella Valley. The fair will continue until Sunday night. A. F. Hicks and Carl Barkow represent Palm Springs on the county-wide advisory committee of the three-day event.

At this county fair there is a new note struck in the way of fairs, since there is a Date Fiesta and Stampede stamped onto it. Stampedes are not new things but Date Fiestas are a bit unusual. Here in the midst of plantations of them, in a setting nowhere else to be found in America, under cloudless skies as clearly blue as ever looked down on Algeria is this mid-winter fete.

Nine thousand dollars in prize money will be contested for, and really magnificent trophies will be given.

To people who come down from the misty hills, the bright sunshine will (Continued On Last Page)

El Dorado Hotel Being Built On P. C. Drive

El Dorado Hotel, which will have 24 rooms, a large lobby and recreation room, and a large shop in front, is now under construction on South Palm Canyon Drive, just north of the Rose Hotel. The hotel is being built for Harry Mutascio, owner of Harry's Palm Springs Cafe.

The architect's sketch shows that it will be a very attractive structure, being stuccoed inside and outside, having a red tile roof, and attractive balconies with arches opening onto the garden. It will be completely air-conditioned throughout.

When Mr. Mutascio moved in two dormitories from an aqueduct camp to form the skeleton framework for the back part of the building, a number of people became concerned over the matter. However, the dormitories, which were built of the best grade of lumber, will be completely covered with stucco and red tile roof and a new building added on the front. Balconies and stairs change the entire aspect.

Harry Mutascio has been in Palm Springs since 1922 and he has developed one of the most popular cafes in Palm Springs.

Forum Presents Wheeler Dancers Next Wednesday

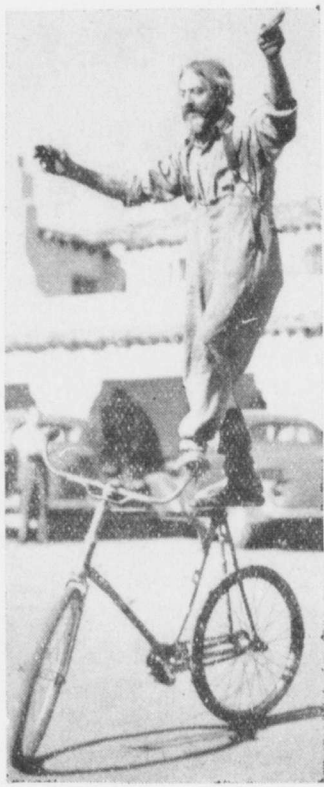

Most colorful program of the Desert Forum season will take place next Wednesday, Feb. 9, when the Pearl Wheeler Dancers present their fascinating repertoire of Oriental dances at the Plaza Theatre at 8:30 p. m. gorgeously costumed, the dancers will appear in East Indian, Javanese, Burmese, and Nautch dances. Noted for their lavish, authentic costumes and jewelry, the group is under the direction of Miss Pearl Wheeler, who, for eighteen years, staged and directed programs for Ruth St. Denis.

Harry Kramer, Age 65, Doing His Stunts

BY TED WROUGHTON

Of the Desert Garden Date Shop One day last week a bent, gray bearded old man was seen pedaling an ancient bicycle up Palm Canyon Drive. He turned in at the entrance of the alley between The Village Pharmacy and the Desert Inn Garage and began doing a few stunts on the rickety old bike.

Can you imagine a man, 65 years old, doing trick riding on a bicycle with the agility of a young athlete? Well that was the sight to be seen. The bike was a show in itself; the frame a mass of welding, the seat a crude home-made affair, and the tires patched here and there with black tape. One couldn't help but wonder (Continued On Last Page)

Contractors' Association Formed Here

Contractors and building material dealers met in the school house Tuesday evening to organize a Palm Springs Contractors' Association, which will be affiliated with the state organization.

Captain Evans, who helped to draft the first Federal housing bill and who is president of the Los Angeles Contractors Association, addressed the meeting. He said 40 picket lines had been disbanded, illegal picketing and sabotage had been stopped through the efforts of the Los Angeles organization.

He urged the contractors to go to labor with clean hands and not to indulge in wage cutting or other measures that would injure labor. The association maintains a high wage level but insists on an open shop, employing union or non-union men without discrimination.

The group plans to protect the public by using their influence to strengthen the license laws, thus keeping incompetent and unfair contractors out of the field, and demanding efficient employees and a fair day's work from every employee.

Members of County Board of Supervisors Visit Village

Four members of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors and their wives were guests of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce on Monday afternoon of this week.

After an enjoyable luncheon at the Racquet Club as the guests of the local chamber, the members of the board of supervisors were taken on a two-hour tour of the village. The supervisors were invited to Palm Springs and were taken on the tour for the expressed purpose of making them better acquainted with the problems of the Palm Springs area and the proposed incorporated city of Palm Springs.

Tell Us About Your Adventure

Have you ever had an exciting adventure?

If you have, write it up in your own words and submit it to The Desert Sun for publication. Maybe we can form an Adventure Club.

You probably read of the adventure of Sergeant Major Wells of Palm Springs in a Turkish harem, published in the last issue of The Desert Sun, and "Held for Ransom by the Turks," in today's issue. Your adventure may not have been in war, but nevertheless, it may be just as thrilling, and The Desert Sun readers would like to read about it.

Simply write the story in your own words, giving names, places and dates; sign it, and mail to The Desert Sun, Palm Springs. Be sure to give us your address and telephone number so the publishers may know that the writer is a resident of Palm Springs.

Fred Perry

Vines-Perry, Top Ranking Pros., Here Sunday

Two of the world's great tennis players will be pitted against each other at the Racquet Club Sunday to decide the world's professional championship. The matches begin at one o'clock.

Ellsworth Vines, world's professional champion for the past four years, will meet Fred Perry, world's amateur champion, also during the past four years, in one of the series of matches which is to establish the real champion of all.

But that will not be all. Two other great net stars will be here tomorrow: Walter Senior, Canadian national champion, and Berkeley Bell, "The Tumbling Texan," national intercollegiate champion, will play the opening match.

In the doubles the California pair, Vines and Senior, will team up against Perry and Bell.

Advance ticket sales indicate that between 500 and 750 persons will witness Sunday afternoon's outstanding program, according to Charles Farrell, who has arranged details for the big affair. Farrell's co-partner in the Racquet Club, Ralph Bellamy, expects to be here for the matches and to help Charlie with final details.

While tennis will be, of course, the big thing on the afternoon's program, the Racquet Club is preceding the matches with a buffet luncheon to start about 12 o'clock. Features of this will be a smart styles presentation by the Mary Kazhal Shop and special music and entertainment.

Tickets were selling rapidly this week, even going in blocks of twenty-five to fifty to prominent guests of the hotels and villages.

Special seating arrangements have been made by Farrell affording spectators fine view and comfortable enjoyment of the play.

Says Supervisors Unfair to Village

Thomas Lipps exploded a bombshell in, what had been up to that time, a very peaceful meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when he entered the auditorium at the school house during the closing minutes of the meeting Tuesday night and read two radical resolutions to the assembled citizens; one that the Chamber of Commerce call a mass meeting of Palm Springs citizens to discuss splitting Riverside county into two counties, and another that the Chamber of Commerce go on record as disfavoring the recently passed county ordinance curbing gambling and that the board of supervisors be asked to reconsider said ordinance.

The meeting Tuesday night had been peaceful up to the time Mr. Lipps entered the room and read his resolutions and urged they be passed, only a small, quiet group being in attendance. Due to the fact that only Directors Raymond Cree, Alvah Hicks, Archie Palmer, Herbert Samson, President Harold Hicks, Executive Secretary Frank V. Shannon, and a half dozen or so other persons were in attendance, President Hicks suggested that such discussion would hardly result in representative opinion at that time.

When no one seconded either of his resolutions and little or no discussion followed regarding them, he withdrew each resolution in turn reserving the right to present each at the next meeting of the group.

Lipps criticized the county board of supervisors sharply for passing the ordinance to curb gambling in Riverside county "without notifying the people east of the San Jacinto range, and giving them a chance to discuss it."

In regard to his second resolution advocating the splitting of the county, Lipps explained that it was more or less complimentary to the first. He declared in effect that under the present (Continued On Last Page)

Safe Drivers To Be Rewarded, Says Agent

Safe drivers are to be rewarded in the future, said Alvin Weingarten, local insurance broker, yesterday. "The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, comprising 45 of the leading casualty companies, have adopted the 'safe driver reward plan,'" said Mr. Weingarten. "To the assured who has not made a claim for loss during the year a 15 per cent rebate of the premium will be repaid. They will also be listed on a roll of honor as a preferred risk." This plan should greatly encourage safe driving, Mr. Weingarten said, and will stop many people from putting in claims for trivial damages to themselves or their cars.

History of Desert Classes Start Next Monday

The public is invited to attend without charge the first meeting of the University of California's extension division course, "Natural History of the Desert," conducted by Don Admiral. The first meeting will take place at the school house on Monday evening, Feb. 7 at 8 p. m.

Last Chance To See "The Drunkard"

The next three nights will be the last chance Palm Springs people will have to see "The Drunkard," now showing nightly at the El Paseo Theatre, for the company will go to Phoenix Monday morning. The last show here will be Sunday evening. The play begins promptly at 9 o'clock.

Famous Writer Is Guest Here

Dr. Will Durant and Dr. Herman Lissauer

Proclaiming Palm Springs "unique," Dr. Will Durant, famous author and lecturer, wholeheartedly approved of the subtlety and esthetic sense displayed in the village, while vacationing here last week-end at the Desert Retreat. The author of the impressive "History of Civilization," said that of all the desert spots of the world he has seen in traveling about the globe, Palm Springs is his favorite.

Dr. Durant and his wife were in Palm Springs as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Lissauer. Dr. Lissauer is well known in Southern California as chairman of the Open Forum lectures. Dr. Durant returned to Los Angeles Monday in order to introduce Upton Close, noted correspondent and authority on Oriental affairs, in a lecture sponsored by Dr. Lissauer's organization.

Other prominent guests at the Desert Retreat include Dr. Fred A. Jostles, orthopedic surgeon of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Marr of Los Angeles, Mrs. Eugene Orenstein of New York, Cy Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Armand Kaliz of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Monroe, Mr. Boyd King, Maury Aroff, Nate Sugarman, Mr. and Mrs. William Burns, and Edmund MacDonald, all of Los Angeles.

Miller's Bicycle Shop offers an interesting new plan to tourists who want bicycles for only a few weeks or all season. They now have the opportunity to buy the bicycles with the understanding that Miller's will buy the bicycles back for half price when they wish to turn them back.

Palm Springs Man Held for Ransom By the Turks

Editor's Note: Last week The Desert Sun published an article about the thrilling adventure of Palm Springs Resident Sergeant Major Allan "Bill" Wells, in a Turkish harem. The old sheik took a shot at him when he found this American army officer in the same room with his wives. Sergeant Major Wells, now a resident in the Palm Springs Plaza, is the Ace Floyd Gibbons story winner and a former newspaper man. He served in the crack "Eleventh" United States Cavalry with Guy Empey before the World War and became an expert machine gunner. At the outbreak of the World War he enlisted in the British Army at London, England, and served in the British Expeditionary Forces in France until the United States entered the war.

At the request of General William Mitchell, then a colonel and chief of the American Air Service in France, he transferred to the American Air Service and served in the American Expeditionary Forces in France until April, 1919. After the Armistice he was sent to Turkey in Asia on special work for the American Relief Administration. Returning to Paris in 1921 he was made chief purchasing agent for the American Red Cross in Europe and later appointed director of transportation in Riga, Russia. His adventures would fill a good sized book which

Plaza Fiesta To Be Held March 4-5

Turtle Races.
Horned-Toad Races.
Irish Donkey Races.
Tobogganning.
Swimming Events.
Western Fashion Show.
Street Dances.
Archery, Rifle Shooting.
Games Galore.

These are only some of the sports villagers and visitors will enjoy during the Second Annual Plaza Festival on March 4 and 5.

The Plaza Festival is an annual affair given for charity. Last year the library was the recipient. This year the Friendly Aid Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will receive the net proceeds. If there ever was a time that this committee needed money, it is now, for it is Palm Springs' only relief organization, viz: its community chest.

Mrs. Ted Griffith, administrator for the Friendly Aid Committee, and Mrs. Robert Ransom constitute the general committee in charge of the Plaza Festival this year. They have enlisted a number of energetic community workers to help them, which insures the success of the fiesta.

Marion Fulford will head the fashion show committee; Charles Hill and Allan Thompson, entertainment and program; Lodie Britsch, concessions; Ralph Nesmith, tickets and script; Francis Crocker, Leslie Williams and J. W. Clune, finance; Al Gardiner, treasurer. Other committee members will be appointed.

The celebrators will not have a chance to spend money at the fiesta. Only script will be accepted at the festival. Script books will be sold to the public on the streets for a week or more before the fiesta, and this script will be accepted for admission fees at the booths and dances, and will be used for the various games.

Tentative plans are to open the two-day event with a toboggan slide on Mt. San Jacinto, where the snow is now deep. The first toboggan party to reach Palm Springs to get first prize, according to unofficial reports. Next will be a swimming event at the Racquet Club. Other suggestions include turtle and horned-toad races (get your turtles and toads early), Irish donkey races (each contestant rides a donkey that the other fellow bet on), taxi dancing Friday night and street dancing Saturday night, western fashion show with all wearing-apparel shops participating.

While in Turkey Sergeant Major Wells was kidnapped by the Turks, who intended to hold him for ransom. However, we'll let him tell the story, so here it is:

"HELD FOR RANSOM"

An armistice is usually the first practical step toward peace, but the armistice of 1918 between Turkey and the Allies, was only an introduction to another war in which the Ottoman Empire (Turkey) died.

The terms of the armistice were severe on Turkey. She faced the possibility of losing all her Arabic speaking possessions. However, she placed complete faith in the declarations of European statesmen which (Continued on Page Three)

Ben Bard Players Come Here Feb. 17-18

Ben Bard, nationally known stage, screen and radio actor, arrived here yesterday to arrange for the presentation at the Plaza Theatre of the popular Ben Bard Players, Thursday and Friday, February 17 and 18, of Martin Mooney's new play, "The Ghost Writer." The play is sponsored by the Palm Springs Lions Club, and 10 per cent of the proceeds will go to the club's fund for the blind.

In Hollywood, the Ben Bard Playhouse, including the exquisite miniature theatre, classrooms, dance auditorium, study halls and offices is a showplace of the film colony. Here embryo actors come from all corners of the earth to study with "the Maestro." Students are enrolled there at present from the British West Indies, Australia, London, France and all parts of the United States.

"Have many of your students graduated from your ranks into those of motion pictures?" we asked curiously, on meeting the actor-producer.

"Oh, yes indeed," came the immediate reply. Our shows in Hollywood are attended by studio scouts, producers and directors and we regularly sign our proteges to studio contracts. In fact in the past year, Jack Carson, Gordon Jones, Diane Barrington and Dorothy Moore were signed at R-K-O, Joyce Matthews at Paramount, Helen Valkis at R-K-O and a full score of the students have worked in individual pictures as well."

Many interesting and unique plays, all originals, have been produced at the Ben Bard Playhouse. Among them are "The Hemlock Cup," "The Lady Dances," "Susanne," "The Virgin Queen's Daughter," "The Grey Zone," "The Greatest Find Since Garbo," and most recently "The Ghost Writer." In addition, the Bard Players regularly present their "Talent Scout Revues" which feature skits, sketches, block outs and one-act playlets by the actors of the institution.

"How did you happen to pick Palm Springs as one of the first outside-of-town spots for presentation of your play?" we inquired of Ben Bard during our chat with him.

"Well, I was down here for a few day's rest," Mr. Bard replied, "and Miss Marjorie Weaver, Hollywood motion picture star, and Edmund F. Lindop, developer of Desert Sands Estates. Miss Weaver was a visitor this week with Mr. and Mrs. Lindop.

your Lions Club seemed to be in the throes of requiring money for their blind person's fund. So I thought a benefit performance by my players might help the good work along."

It is well-known that the late Ruth Roland, brilliant serial star of the movies and the wife of the producer, has been the inspiration for much of the brilliant achievement of the well-known actor, director and coach. Their romance stands at the head of the film colony's famous love stories which endured until the end.

Actors who will appear in the Mooney play, "The Ghost Writer" are the pick of the Ben Bard Players contingent in Hollywood. Among those who will be seen locally in the drama are Roma Sargent, Ann Morris, Trude Marson, Barbara Buchanan, Margaret Garner, Kelly Flint, Virginia Bond, Ralph Bowman, Tom Betterton, Harry Bernard, Walter Sande, Bill Thomas, Frank Bishel, Edgar Hinton, Edward Senechak, Stephen Iott, Ted Caskey, Robert Brubaker, and William Orr.

Important Folk at Desert Sands

Among those enjoying the sunshine at Desert Sands Estates this year are Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Diehl of San Francisco, president of Columbia Steel Corporation, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corporation; Mr. and Mrs. John Yates, insurance executive of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Michels and son and daughter, of Winnetka, Ill., owners of a chain of theatres in Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Lindsley of Glencoe, Ill.; Mr. Lindsley is one of the outstanding advertising men of the country.

Also Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Ullman of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Angus McCloed of Los Angeles (engineer of Shell Oil Co.); Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turner of Long Beach (executive of the O. C. S. Oil Supply Co.)

Those who have just finished their new homes in this popular section are Mr. and Mrs. David L. Livingston of Los Angeles; Hull Bros. of Hull Bros. Lumber Co. of Beverly Hills; Mrs. E. P. Jackson of Los Angeles, and Jack Horner of Palm Springs Importation Co.

At El Mirador

New Yorkers visiting at El Mirador include Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gainger, the latter visiting with their son, Jack Gainger, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murphy and their daughter, Eleanor, and John J. Raskob.

Heading the list of socially prominent from Chicago are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Searle and their son, Dan, who is vacationing from the Desert School for Boys in Arizona. Other prominent Chicagoans include Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. John Balaban.

Returning after a year's cruise around the world are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Benson of London, England. Mr. Benson is the owner of one of the world's largest and best thoroughbred stock farms. He is also the owner of "Windsor Lad," now retired and considered the best thoroughbred stud in the world today. They have been enjoying the morning rides and are seen on the desert trails every day during their stay in Palm Springs. With the Bensons is Mrs. D. Hyams also of London.

From the Northwest are H. K. Brooks and L. H. Webber of Bend, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Jensen of Portland, Oregon; from Vancouver, B. C., are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bull and Mrs. H. W. Lind.

Most prominent among the social set at El Mirador from Los Angeles, were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huesman, with their daughter, Carol, and Miss Betty Newling. They spent the weekend at El Mirador and were seen in their box at the rodeo.

Visiting with Mrs. J. S. Torrance of Pasadena, was Mrs. Roydon Vosburg and daughter, Helena. From San Mateo are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hooker.

From Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kent are here, who are making an indefinite stay.

Enjoying the desert are Mr. and Mrs. Ossian Anderson of Everett, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beaty of Stockton, California, accompanied by their son, Jack, who is a student at Stanford, are spending a month here. Visitors from Chicago include Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Dowey, who are spending the winter in Palm Springs. Returning after a brief stay in Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Ewald of Detroit, Mich., who are staying in Palm Springs for the next month.

Among the guests of El Mirador seen in boxes at the rodeo, held at the Field Club on Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Gosden and their two children, Virginia and Freeman, Jr.; in Mr. Pinney's box were Mrs. J. G. Stradling of Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. John Searle of Chicago, Mr. J. C. Reynolds of Hollywood. With Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huesman of Los Angeles, was their daughter, Carol, and Miss Betty Newling; with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Grainger of New York, was their son, Jack, and Mrs. Heleine DelValle, also Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Jensen of Portland, Oregon.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beaty of Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Dingwall of Ogunquit, Maine, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Ewald of Detroit, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Green of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Gene J. Greive of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Benson of London, England, with Mrs. D. Hyams, Richard Litton and Mr. Alfred Schiller, also of London; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murphy and daughter, Eleanor, and son, Richard, of New York; John J. Raskob; Miss Virginia Smith and her father and mother, Mr.

and Mrs. A. S. Henry of Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. J. S. Torrance and Mrs. Roydon Vosburg and daughter, Helena; with Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. West of St. Louis, Mo., was their daughter, Miss Betty West.

ADVERTISE in The Desert Sun for best results.

Mrs. T. A. Willard, prominent resident of Beverly Hills, has just moved into her new desert home on Santa Catalina Road in the Racquet Club Colony. While her home was being completed, Mrs. Willard stayed at El Mirador.

seemed to hold a promise that surrender would not mean the entire partition of Turkey.

Little did she know that the Allies were already smacking their lips in contemplation of the Thanksgiving feast and that Great Britain, France, Italy and Greece had their orders in for a slice of juicy Turkey. Great Britain was to have the choice cut extending from Haidar-Pasha, across in Asia from Constantinople and the terminus of the famous Bagdad Railway (Line de Bagdad), to Konja, and France, Italy and Greece taking slices from Konja to Smyrna.

In April, 1918, five months after the signing of the armistice, I was discharged from the American Air Service in Liverpool, England. In service in France with the British Army since the beginning of the World War and with the American Air Service since April 1918, I was still raring to go and not quite ready for the trip back to the good old U. S. A.

At the Adelphi Midland hotel in Liverpool where I stopped a few days after being demobilized at the old Knotty Ash discharge camp, I met Mr. Henry Morganthau, Jr., our present secretary of the treasury. One day he suggested that I look up the headquarters of the American Relief Administration in London with the idea of helping in the relief work in Turkey where his father, for several years had served as Ambassador from the United States of America. He had just returned from a trip to Constantinople and his accounts of the life there certainly made the old feet itch and, I'd always wanted to look over a real Turkish harem. The upshot of it was that two months later found me down in the interior of Turkey, in charge of a motor transport convoy hauling relief supplies, (food, clothing, medicine, etc.) from Oola Kishla, a small flag stop station on the line de Bagdad, about seven hundred miles from Constantinople, across mountains and desert to Caesera, Sivas, Karpuz and Trebezon on the Black Sea.

My equipment consisted of about 20 old worn out German motor lorries, Pragas and Opels, with steel and wooden tires and just about on their last legs. These old veterans were turned over to me by Mersinly Jemal Pasha, Minister of War of Turkey, headquartered at Konja. In addition the A. R. A. through the Near East Relief headquarters in New York City supplied a fleet of 20 American Reos. These were the latest two ton jobs with pneumatic front and hard rear tires and were chain driven. I was forced to dismantle the self-starting motors on the Reos as my drivers, Turks, Greeks, Kurds and Georgians were so intrigued by these new mysterious starting devices that all the batteries were soon run down by their continuous starting and stopping of the motors.

It was my third run to Caesera, the city of massacres, where I had established a base of supplies and repair shops for my trucks, that I had my first brush with the notorious Turkish bandits.

There always existed in the mountains of Turkey, semi-political roving bands of bandits who have achieved great local fame—like the companies of Robin Hood.

They were in eternal conflict with the Ottoman Government. They lived by kidnapping the children of the rich and holding them for ransom, robbing the rich merchants and killing the government officials and gendarmes, but they were sympathetic to the poor peasants. Legends and songs of romance gathered around them. In the early days of the Greek invasion, not having seen the manner of occupation they joined the Greeks. This was partly due to their desire to loot and partly to their hatred of the Ottoman government. But they stayed only long enough to learn the true facts and returned to fight under Keukje Effe. They soon made the region too hot for the Greeks. My road or camel trail wound through the territory the bandits were known to cover. It was about one o'clock in the morning and we were just about to enter the mountain pass this side of Nedje when I heard a clatter of hoofs up the road. A minute later a group of thirty rough and dusty horsemen galloped up to the head of the column from the side road.

Armed with long rifles their chief with three of his men alongside advanced into the light on the road thrown by the headlights of the first lorry and asked for the chief of the convoy. My interpreter, a Greek by the name of Elias who could talk in about a dozen of the dialects spoken in Turkey, (he was later killed in the last Smyrna massacre), answered the bandit chief and pointed to me. I was standing alongside my motorcycle about to mount and start the convoy. Although armed with two 45 caliber revolvers I realized that it was futile to resist and walked over to where the chief and Elias stood.

One of the bandits grabbed my artillery and the chief gave orders to some of his henchmen who rode down the column disarming all the drivers. Then leaving a squad of his men at the entrance to the pass to prevent any attempt at escape he forced us to follow him with our lorries out on the side road. While making the detour from the main trail Elias told me that the chief had remarked to his men that he would demand a big ransom for our release.

We must have traveled a good ten miles along the base of the mountain when we came to a narrow rocky pass through which our big heavy loaded lorries could hardly squeeze. On entering the pass we climbed for five miles before we arrived at the hide-out of the bandits located on a huge plateau entirely shut in by steep rocky cliffs. All of the drivers and myself were hustled into a high wooden stockade evidently used as a corral for their horses and camels. Elias was kept under guard with the chief and I found out later that he went with the men to make an inspection of the contents of the lorries.

I had been warned at Constantinople and also at Konja that it would be the smart thing to ask the Minister of War, Jemal Pasha, to provide an escort of soldiers for the convoy but I had taken with a grain of salt all the bandit stories I had heard and was in for it.

During the next 45 minutes I went through the tortures of the damned and vividly recalled the stories of massacres by bandits recounted for my benefit by members of the American colony in Constantinople. Suppose the old fly bitten chief demanded an impossible sum and anyway, who would pay a dime in Turkey to rescue an old World War wreck all shot up and without sense enough to go home after the French fracas.

I was sweating in a real Turkish bath of fear when a shout went up from the men crowded up to the gate as the doors swung open. Daylight was just breaking in the east when Elias, a big smile on his face, burst through the crowd with the chief at his heels and announced that we were free again.

A cheer went up from the drivers and we all went out to the mess tent where over our breakfast coffee the chief explained that we were mistaken for a convoy of arms and supplies for Reshid Pasha, governor of Sivas and one of the organizers of the nationalist revolt. Elias told the old chief how the American Relief Administration and the Near East Relief were engaged in taking food, clothing and medical supplies from people who had an abundance and giving them to the poor people in Turkey who were on the verge of starvation.

This pleased the chief and we made him a present of a dozen cases of milk, canned fruits, vegetables, meats, etc., and hit the trail again for Caesera where we arrived the next day without further mishap.

Guess the old bandit chief figured that we, the A. R. A. and the Near East Relief were in a small way, bandits too, and deserving of his cooperation and support. Anyway we were never molested again and later on he took his band away to fight the Greeks for New Turkey.

School Sites Discussed by Aimless Club

The Aimless Luncheon Club of Cathedral City met at the Totem Pole Cafe Tuesday noon. During the luncheon a location was discussed for an Elementary School.

The proposed site offered by the Cathedral City Development Company was inspected by the Palm Springs Elementary board consisting of Mrs. Nellie Coffman, chairman, and owner of the Desert Inn; Mrs. Sally Nichols, and John Williams, pioneer real estate broker of Palm Springs.

After conferring with W. R. Hillery and other citizens, it was decided that the school site would be taken up at the next regular meeting and this or some other location would be reported upon.

During the discussion W. L. Jordan brought up the proposition of posting streets and numbering the houses. It was thought that numbering the houses would not be taken up at this time, but it was decided by the members that it would be a good idea to post the streets. After a discussion, pro and con, a committee was appointed by E. F. Reilly, consisting of John Harrison, chairman; E. F. Martel, and George Washington, to get figures and estimates of the cost of the same and report back at their earliest convenience.

Mrs. Ione MacKenzie, Indio City Clerk, Is Crash Victim

Mrs. Ione T. MacKenzie, city clerk of Indio, was killed instantly early Monday morning when her sedan crashed into a car driven by L. T. Williams, 61 years of age, of Niland. The accident occurred 10 miles west of Indio on Highway 99.

Williams, not seriously injured, was taken to the Coachella Valley hospital.

According to State Highway Patrolman Pierano and Gausche, who investigated the accident, Mrs. MacKenzie, returning to Indio from a visit in Los Angeles, apparently had fallen asleep at the wheel. Williams told officers he saw the oncoming car angling across the highway and sounded his horn. He failed, however, to arouse the driver.

Mrs. MacKenzie, a pioneer resident of Indio, owned considerable business and residential property there. She was 61 years of age. She was the mother of Harold MacKenzie, former automobile dealer and peace officer of Indio.

Parker Dam Now Up 310 Feet

Placing of concrete on the three dams being constructed is going ahead at a fast rate, and two of the dams, Parker and Gene Wash, are rapidly nearing completion.

On January 22, the highest block in the Parker Dam was at elevation 445, which is 310 feet above the lowest point in the foundation of the dam. On that date a total of 260,100 cubic yards of concrete had been placed, which is approximately 88 per cent of the estimated quantity to be placed. Seepage water in the upstream sump, back of the dam, is now more than 230 feet deep and its surface is at about the same elevation as that of the river above the upper cofferdam.

Concrete in the Gene Wash dam was more than 95 per cent placed by the middle of January, with the highest block being at the crest, which is 138 feet above the foot of the foundation. A total of 14,514 cubic yards of concrete had been placed in this structure on January 22.

Copper Basin dam, on which concreting was started on December 29, 1937, had been raised a total height of 22 feet by mid-January.

Among week-end guests at Desert Health School were: Mrs. Gertrude Davis, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Kenwood Johnson, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Mr. C. H. Chamberlain, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. E. Edwin Smith, Los Angeles, and Dr. and Mrs. Earl M. Tarr, Los Angeles. Mrs. Davis made the trip from Boston to investigate the school. Her niece, Carmen Wood, is enrolled for the remainder of the school year. Mr. Johnson is president of the National Bio-Chemical Company with offices in New York City, Chicago, Denver and Los Angeles. Both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are patrons of the school. Mr. and Mrs. E. Edwin Smith were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Earl M. Tarr.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet R. Perdue and children of Lincoln Park, Michigan, are spending the month of February at the Cairo.

Competition

(An Editorial)

Competition sometimes looks like an enemy but in a small town it can very often be a friend in disguise.

A few years ago facilities were insufficient for our tourists, and they were glad to rent anything to shelter their heads, and they paid for it.

Cheaply constructed places paid for themselves sometimes in a year or two years, but they were still cheap places.

Other people came in and built better places to rent for the same price, and got the customers, and are still getting them.

The first group cannot understand why their places do not rent until the season is half over and the demand greater. Your real estate broker can possibly give you the solution. Perhaps you do not know how other places compare with yours for the same price. People who rent by the month usually shop awhile before renting. They pick the best for the money. Only about one customer out of twelve will put up with an oil stove to cook on, when they can get gas or electricity, and it is useless to try to educate the city women to use such obsolete appliances and methods, as they don't wish to go back to grandma's day, even in the desert.

Competition has done wonders in Cathedral City in the last two years. There is probably no town east of the Mississippi River that has for the same population ratio the all-electric service in homes we have here today in this far western town. City folks are amazed to find out here in the sand dunes that they can push a couple of buttons, and have their house heated by electricity or gas, their food kept cool, the bath water heated and their bed warmed.

If you want your places to rent, any real estate broker will tell you that the vast majority of our city tourists desire, first a clean place and city conveniences. Large windows with a desert view are very popular. Many tourists like the knotty pine rustic effect with heavy drapes and built-in beds. It is a change from the stiffness of city dwellings. Others enjoy the same quality construction they have at home. They are able to find both classes of residences in Cathedral City.

Competition is giving us better tourist accommodations each year, better store and cafe service in the absence of incorporated authority. Competition will promote local progress. If competition brings a little natural envy or jealousy, two of the hardest things for a human being to overcome, it also brings much good. "Viva la Competish."

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Durker, of Orange, who are stopping at the Casa Repos, report very little change in their daughter Phillis' sickness. She is under the family doctor's care in Orange.

Mr. Jordan helped to pioneer Balboa, and is the senior member of the firm of Jordan and Twist, real estate brokers of Balboa. Mr. Jordan is here to serve Cathedral City and the public to the best of his ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Adamson and daughters, the Misses Hildegrade and Margaret, of Los Angeles, called Sunday on Mrs. Lydia Engh.

Jack Dempster, who has been collecting the garbage in Cathedral City for the past several years, has bought out C. Spaletta, in Palm Springs. Dempster has released his lease on the reservation here and in the future all garbage collected here will be disposed of in the Palm Springs public dumping ground.

Misses L. Fay Stanley and Margaret Gilman of Anaheim were week end guests of Solheim. Other guests are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gibson of Ripon, Calif., who are spending a month, and E. Walberg, who has been in the Philippine Islands for the past seven years.

Congratulations

(An Editorial)

Cathedral City residents should be congratulated for the interest its citizens are taking in helping their community on its way to prosperity and growth. All small communities go through the same process that Cathedral City is going through now.

It would be a burden for the same people to do the community work all the time, for their business at the present time doesn't permit them to do so. Therefore we should each do our bit at different times.

Rome wasn't made in a day, nor will Cathedral City be; but watch us steadily grow. Our Chamber of Commerce has really set things going. When they get a suitable place erected to hold meetings, those who attend can be seated comfortably while discussing local matters.

A suggestion was made about posting the streets and numbering the houses. It met with unanimous approval. Strangers come here and don't know where to find their relatives or friends. They are directed, as nearly as one can direct them, without being guided by street names or house numbers. We feel confident that the Chamber of Commerce will take care of this matter in due time.

We must let it be known to the public, the accommodations to be had here this year, about our auto courts, trailer courts, cottages, and apartments; that these are all modern and convenient at reasonable prices.

We have the desert right at our door, and when the flowers bloom it is a scene of beauty that one never will forget. Words cannot begin to express the beauty seen for miles in every direction. Motorists come from far and near to see our desert in bloom. Many artists may be seen here and there all through the desert around Cathedral City painting scenes of never ending beauty.

Let's welcome these visitors when they come to Cathedral City and prove to them that this is "The Friendly City."

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morrell, of Spokane, Washington, were guests of the Desert Villa Apartments this week. Mr. Morrell has a large ranch near Spokane. Mr. Morrell has charge of the fairs held in that vicinity.

Reporting Field Day

Well, the last week or so turned out to be more or less of a continual field day for the village's reporters. In the first place, it rained—and that is news any time this season. There were the rodeo and the Governor's plug for the sales tax at the Lions Club. Then, shattering a long, long precedent, the airport committee of the Chamber of Commerce finally came out with a definite statement of policy.

No startling developments were forthcoming from the Southern California Gas Company in regard to the tank tangle. The tank itself has become so common a sight to most of us that we have to look for it, rather than indignantly find it intruding on our view. The incorporation petition snagged again for a slight delay without necessarily dimming any of the village's aspirations toward its first civic long trousers. Topping the week off nicely was the President's birthday ball which, they say, was well worth the five dollars.

More About the Rain

The rain was a mixed blessing. As usual, we gratefully splashed in it during the first part of the week, cursed it on the week-end. This is probably just another one of those easily understandable resort inconsistencies of attitude. If it did not discourage a few of the less hardy from driving down to Palm Springs, at least it will bring them when the flowers come out.

However, we might as well settle down right now to pray for more rain, much more. If your neighbor is a villager of less than five years don't believe him when he tells you that "now we'll have a marvelous display of desert flowers." The local plants manage to subsist on practically no water at all, but when it comes to blooming, they are thirsty flora.

So pray for rain. But for business' sake, pray for only a Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday one.

At Long Last—An Airport Policy

That communication of the airport committee to Mr. Parrish, operator of the airport, may in its way give a little added momentum to the movement to clarify once and for all the interminable mess which has existed for so long. What may have been at one time a healthy argument has degenerated during the last year into nothing more than a large scale name-calling contest.

It seems quite nice to have the matter chased out of the bushes and partially spread in the open. Judging from the committee's letter at least, it looks as though the complications of the past are being honestly exposed to the good clean light of publicity. It is to be hoped that the committee will continue to "tell all," for nothing shrivels up foolish argument like a little beam of publicity.

We noted this week that already the runways had been neatly dragged and leveled. But there may be some injustice to the committee's complaint about the field's condition. It is our understanding that the Department of Commerce maintains constant supervision over airports and sets up rigid regulations for operators to follow. The Department of Commerce and the American Air Lines evidently were satisfied if the committee was not.

Problems, like that concerning the airport, bring home once more the fact that Palm Springs is perpetually concerned with useless bickerings. If we could stop tearing at each other's throats about those things in which we all have a deep interest, we might argue less and accomplish more. If we could look at things impersonally, we would see that we are, as a community, simply little cogs in a big muddle. There is only one right answer to any question. Surely, it should not be almost impossible for us to dig into the heart of local matters and pull forth the clear, honest truth.

No town or village can ever progress any farther than the vision of its leaders is able to carry it. Naturally, we plan for the future. But planning for the future and vision are two different quantities. The first may be selfish or bigoted or unwise. The second may be narrow or short or cramped.

We are concerned with these kinds of planning and vision only insofar as we seek to avoid them. What we aspire to, or should aspire to, is a combination of unselfish, circumspect planning and broad, far-sighted vision. Every man has the capacity to express these qualities and, as humans in the aggregate, so does a community. Expressing them, Palm Springs could reach toward a magnificent goal as a place to live and a place to visit.

Woman Sculptor Brings Statues to Palm Springs

Anna Coleman Ladd, one of the few woman sculptors in the world to achieve fame, visited Palm Springs last week-end to superintend the placing of a group of her bronzes in the Desert Inn Gallery and along the promenade.

The statues on display include one called "California," which Mrs. Ladd was inspired to do upon coming to the state a year ago. It represents a young girl rising from a flowering aloe, bearing fruit in her hands. This statue, says Mrs. Ladd, is intended to express the courage and intelligence of Californians, as well as the athletic youthfulness of Golden State citizens.

Other statues in the collection represent a varied and versatile group of subjects, including several bas-reliefs and heads of medieval saints. There were executed in Rome and Paris, where Mrs. Ladd made a close study of their lives and of Gothic art.

One of the few women to be awarded the Legion d'Honneur, Mrs. Ladd has won considerable fame in Europe and the East, and her statues are prized possessions of world-famous people, including Eleonora Duse, Princess Borghese, the late Marshal Foch, Ethel Barrymore, the late David Belasco, Mrs. Marshall Field, John Hays Hammond and many others.

The statues will be on display at the Desert Inn throughout this week and next.

Chicago Friends Visit Nerads Here

Mr. and Mrs. H. Fail and daughter, Charlene, Mrs. H. Voyta, and Mr. Emil Krametbauer, all of Chicago, are house guests at the J. G. Nerad residence in the village.

Mrs. Fail, Mrs. Voyta, and Mr. Krametbauer are sisters and brother of Mrs. Nerad.

They expect to remain here for three weeks as guests at the Nerad home.

Major J. Paulding Edwards, who has created such a furor in the village this season, was back in Palm Springs this week for a visit of short duration.

Montie Montana Entertains at Desert Picnic

Montie Montana, of rodeo and movie fame, entertained Desert Inn guests on the regular Monday desert picnic, when he and his wife, Louise, did many of the rope and horses stunts that have made them famous all over the country.

Guests from the East were delighted with the display of the "Old West" hospitality in the form of sizzling steaks and chicken done to just the right golden brown over a bed of hot coals. Whiteflower and Johnnie Boyle played many Spanish and popular cowboy tunes during and after lunch.

Dwight T. Partridge of Pasadena, W. O. Schock of St. Louis, Mrs. R. E. Connelly of Oakland, and George Holly of Detroit rode over the desert trail to Eagle canyon. Mr. Holly is owner of the Holly Carburetor Company of Detroit, and a lover of western cowpunches. He rode to the picnic with Montie and on one of Montie's fine pinto horses. Perhaps another cowpunch will take a trip East.

Among those who came to the picnic were: Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman, Mrs. Alfred Benson, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Noss and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westley of York, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Ragsdale, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tucker of Boulder City; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sweeney, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spitzley of Detroit; Dwight T. Partridge, Pasadena; W. O. Schock, St. Louis; Mrs. R. E. Connelly, Oakland; Miss Newman, La Jolla; Fred Wolvin and Miss Ella Nielson, Duluth, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. George Holly, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

On Thursday, Jan. 27, Mrs. Alice Ayrault of Madras, N. Y.; Miss Ella Neilson and Fred Wolvin of Duluth, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Spitzley of Detroit were guests of the Desert Inn on a trip to the Painted canyon and Salton Sea. A picnic lunch was served in the Painted canyon by Johnnie Boyle and Chuck Abbott.

Hot Coffee Served At Safeway Wednesday

Jimmy Wirth of the Dwight Edwards Coffee Co. at Los Angeles, spent all day Wednesday at the local Safeway Store, demonstrating Edwards Dependable coffee, Airway coffee, and Nob Hill coffee.

He dispensed piping hot coffee free of charge all day Wednesday to his many visitors at the Safeway Store.

That Horrible Fire Alarm Horn

(By Philip Kasper)

During the experimental trials necessary to get the proper tone soundings for the horn in the new alarm system, quite a few citizens registered complaints. The mechanic in charge of the installation did not wish to sound the horn any more than was necessary.

The fire district is trying to save the people money in fire insurance rates and taxes and a signal must be installed that can be heard in the outlying districts. If the people of Palm Springs wish to have the ideal protection without an alarm that calls the volunteers, they must raise money enough to keep 10 paid men at the station and thus do away with the help of the citizenry.

The fire protection district, after all, is merely abiding by the demands of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the State of California, and it is within their power to decide what equipment, what kind of a horn, how many men are required to each station and the like. Moreover, the fire underwriters never fail to win their arguments. For Palm Springs a fully equipped paid fire department is the logical thing.

Faith Baldwin's "Enchanted Oasis" Arrives Here

Enchanted Oasis, by Faith Baldwin, is the answer for those who have been eager to read a novel about Palm Springs. It is the story of a young English girl spending a very thrilling but hectic winter in Palm Springs. Such things as gentlemen cowboys, glamor actresses, hanger-on-writers and borderline gamblers, fill every page; and the descriptions of the people and things in and around Palm Springs will arouse your curiosity to the utmost. The story is definitely a romance, but the author very cleverly has added for our enjoyment a rather intriguing yet unspeakable murder story. Copies of the novel have arrived in Palm Springs.

way Store, demonstrating Edwards Dependable coffee, Airway coffee, and Nob Hill coffee.

He dispensed piping hot coffee free of charge all day Wednesday to his many visitors at the Safeway Store.

Jewelry Thefts Reported Here

Two jewelry thefts were reported to police this week, and description of the stolen jewels was immediately sent out over the police department's teletype.

Mrs. R. S. West, a visitor from a Middle Western state at one of the hotels, missed rings and a watch in a jewel box which she valued at $12,000, according to reports received in the office of Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn.

The Shop of Charm missed several trays of rings, valued at about $300, they stated.

Both of the thefts are thought to have occurred within the last two days, and a close check is being made both on the Pacific Coast and elsewhere in the United States to aid in locating the missing valuables.

16,000 Miles In 15-Foot Canoe

Guests of the Desert Inn were taken on a three-year honeymoon cruise last Wednesday by Dana Lamb, the sailor poet, and his bride, who recently returned from a 16,000 mile trip from San Diego to Panama. Reared in the same neighborhood in Santa Ana, California, they attended the same school and college and dreamed of adventure together. They chose adventuring as a career.

A 16-foot canoe, the "Vagabunda" supplied their means of transportation carried them along the coast lines of six foreign countries. The voyage ended at Cristobal after piloting the smallest ship to ever pass through the Panama Canal; the staggering sum of 75c was charged as canal toll. Harper's will publish "Dan and Ginger" Lamb's "Enchanted Vagabonds" in May, 1938.

Desert Inn Theatre Party At "The Drunkard"

Many gay tables of prominent eastern folk, now wintering at the Desert Inn, were noticed at the El Paseo Tuesday night to witness "The Drunkard" in its special showing for guests of the Inn; among those entertaining were: Mrs. Julia Carnell who had at her table, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cooke of New York City; Miss L. B. King, Dayton, Ohio; and Richard Greer, of the Plaza.

At Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Humphrey's table were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. deGraff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Baisley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Flint, Detroit; Mrs. Ray Wilson, Mrs. Humphrey Birge. Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman entertained Mr. Frank Adams and Melba Ann Reilly of Cincinnati; Mrs. Roy Colgate and Miss Newman.

At Mrs. Janet Manwaring's table were Mr. and Mrs. John Sweeney, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ragsdale, Los Angeles; Mrs. R. E. Connolly, Oakland; W. O. Schock, St. Louis; Miss Marion Dight, Mrs. Robt. McGonagle, Mrs. Edith Kempton and Wendell Sether, of the Los Angeles Herald-Express.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Noss and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Westley of York, Penn. were at another table. P. S. Doyle and Philip T. Clay each had a table with a group of friends.

Miss M. Greenwood of London, England, had at her table, Miss E. L. Mesny of Harrogate, England; Mrs. L. Hopkins, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. E. Brady, Mrs. Giles Whiting and Mrs. T. B. Lyon of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooper of Beverly Hills had Mrs. F. R. Dengel and Mr. Jack Dengel of Milwaukee, Wis.

Attorney Saul Ruskin Takes Bride

On Monday, January 24, Saul Ruskin, well known attorney of Los Angeles and Palm Springs, was married to Miss Madalyn Greenbaum of New York City. Mr. Ruskin has been practicing in California since 1921. He is also a member of the New York Bar.

Municipal Judge Leo Freund performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Ruskin is a direct descendant of Benjamin Nones and Haym Salomon, patrons of the American Revolution. The former was a major general and aide de camp to George Washington. The latter, together with Robert Morris, secretary of the treasury, supplied the major financial support for the Revolution. Mr. and Mrs. Ruskin are planning to attend the unveiling of a monument to Washington, Morris and Salomon, which will soon be erected in Grant Park, Chicago.

Mr. Ruskin is an associate of Attorney A. S. Goldflam, and is also a member of the New York Bar.

The following item appeared in the New York Times on September 18, 1937:

"The contract for a monument to George Washington, Robert Morris and Haym Salomon will be awarded Monday to the Lorado Taft Associates, the sculpturing firm formed after the death of Mr. Taft. The monument, of granite and bronze, will stand in Grant Park. Morris and Salomon led in financing the Revolutionary War."

Busy Week Of Social Events At El Mirador

El Mirador began the entertainment for the week under the supervision of Mrs. Dovey Golden Colley, social executive, and her lovely new assistant, Miss Valerie Smith, with a rhumba class on Monday evening in the dance salon; on Tuesday evening a bridge tournament; on Wednesday a tea dance with a big apple class led by Thomas Mack, El Mirador dance instructor.

On Thursday a caravan of nineteen cars went on a picnic to the beautiful Ribbonwood Forest on the Palms to Pines highway, where the guests were entertained with cowboy music and enjoyed a most beautifully served picnic luncheon. On Thursday evening a barn dance was held at Rogers' stables where El Miradorites gather every Thursday night for the old-time square dances in the old adobe barn.

On Friday night, an El Mirador night was held at the El Paseo Theatre where the guests enjoyed the performance of "The Drunkard." On Saturday evening the weekly dinner-dance was held, and the El Mirador dining room was filled to capacity by prominent local and Eastern socialites.

Sunday morning at 11, Dutch Smith, Bill Lewin and Mickey Riley held their usual weekly performance of diving in the beautiful open-air pool; at 1 o'clock all the guests viewed the parade which formed in front of the hotel, and went from there to their respective boxes at the rodeo, and in the evening after dinner a puppet show was held in the sun-room, and so closed the week of entertainment.

Suggests Church for Palm Springs' Social And Spiritual Center

The Community Circle met Tuesday in the Community church for their regular bi-monthly meeting. Dr. John Robertson Macartney conducted the fifteen minute devotional.

Mrs. Charles S. Henderson, president, introduced Miss Monica Finn as the speaker for the afternoon. Miss Finn stressed the loneliness of many people coming to Palm Springs and the great need of church women to call in a friendly way on these people, urging them to use their church for a spiritual and social center.

Tea was served by Mrs. Harry Williams as hostess for the afternoon.

E. J. Wightman Has Daughter As House Guest

Mrs. Julius Blume of Stockton, is a house guest in the village at the home of her father, E. J. Wightman, prominent local realtor.

Mrs. Blume, whose husband is manager of the Bank of America at Stockton, is spending the entire week in the village with her father.

Mrs. Irene Fowler and Son Are Guests Of The Harry Williams

Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Williams of Palm Springs have as their guests Mrs. Williams' sister from Los Angeles, Mrs. Irene Fowler, and her son. Mrs. Fowler and her son will be house guests for two weeks at the Williams residence here.

Mrs. Charlotte Hough had as her week-end guests in Palm Springs, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Somers of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buena of Hollywood.

Sunshine Court Attracts Many Winter Visitors

Those who are making an extended stay of several months at Sunshine Court include Mr. and Mrs. Clark B. Whittier of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Williams of Spokane who are building a new home in the Palo Verde Tract.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Boomer, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McKenna, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Kordish, Chicago; Mrs. Pearl Davis and Mrs. Lyman of Los Angeles; Dr. and Mrs. Lee Steiner, Salem, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. L. Swanson, San Jose; and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coleman, Pasadena.

POLICE NEWS

The local jail wasn't big enough Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Police rounded up all drunks and hoodlums on the streets before they could make themselves obnoxious. More than a dozen arrests were made.

A young lady who gave her name as Ida Shine, age 24, was arrested again this week, charged with vagrancy, and taken before Judge Fredericks. She was recently arrested on the charge of shoplifting, having confessed to the theft of a $15 sweater from the Mary Kazahl Shop. She was released by the court, and then she returned to Palm Springs. A number of petty thefts have been reported by local shops recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford K. Frye of Calexico were painfully injured Tuesday morning when their car skidded on the highway at the point of the mountain north of Jack's Barn. Mr. Frye suffered head and scalp lacerations and was taken to the Hill and Oliver clinic, where he was treated by Drs. Oliver and Staley. Mrs. Frye suffered mostly from shock and was taken to the Reid Hospital.

ALICE FAYE AND GEORGE MURPHY
A NEW SENSATIONAL DANCE TEAM
FEATURE "YOU'RE A SWEETHEART"

ALICE FAYE AND GEORGE MURPHY

Alice Faye, more glamorous and beautiful than ever before, singing the hit songs of the year, and for the first time on the screen dancing, the art which brought her to the screen in the beginning.

George Murphy in the hilarious role of a waiter who becomes a millionaire for a week, wins the love of a Broadway star and figures in the headline romance of the century! He dances as he never danced before.

These two favorites of the screen, together with an all star cast of the world's most brilliant entertainers were swirled together in a lavish cocktail of melody, laughter and grandeur to produce Universal's smashing musical triumph "You're a Sweetheart," in a class by itself.

which screens Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Palm Springs Theatre.

Costing more than a million dollars, the B. G. "Buddy" DeSylva production reveals Ken Murray and Oswald at their funniest, together with Frank Jenks and Frances Hunt, two new comedy discoveries of the year. Leading a dancing chorus of more than a hundred beautiful girls is Edna Sedgwick, famous ballerina of two continents. Andy Devine is seen as the comical bodyguard who wants to get back into prison so he can play on the football team. These and a dozen other elements make "You're a Sweetheart," a top-notch musical that stands in a class by itself.

Gladys George and Franchot Tone in "Love Is A Headache"

"LOVE IS A HEADACHE"

"Love Is A Headache," a wild, woolly comedy of the type that starts you laughing right away, comes to the Palm Springs Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, February 8-9. Basically, it's a human interest story, but there's never a serious moment in it. Smart writing, direction and journeymanlike acting on the part of the entire cast, at times rising to new heights, give the film a lively character that should appeal to specialized general or family type audiences. With Gladys George and Franchot Tone in the leading roles, and ably supported by Ted Healy, Mickey Rooney, Frank Jenks and Ralph Morgan, we can promise you an evening of laughs and good entertainment.

STAND STILL, WILL YA?

The Four Yacht Club Boys, those merry madmen of the screen, insist that they do everything in the world as a team, including their dressing! And the picture above, which shows them tying each other's ties in one of the scenes from their latest riot, "The Drunkard," which opens Thursday next at the Palm Springs Theatre, would sort of bear that out! In "The Drunkard," the Yacht Club Boys head an outstanding cast of film favorites including Eleanor Whitney, Johnny Downs, Betty Grable, Leif Erikson, Larry Crabbe, Ben Blue and Judy Canova.

Mrs. Herbert S. Stamats, and Sally Jane and Peter Stamats, of Grand Rapids, Iowa, have taken a home at Smoke Tree Ranch colony for the duration of the season.

Pay telephone bills before the 25th and receive discount.

William H. Niendorf took "Peanuts" Shelton, as a guest artist, over to Phoenix, this week. While there they will attend the races and visited the night clubs and various bright spots of that particular desert area.

THE NEW "MARCH OF TIME" AT THE PALM SPRINGS THEATRE NEXT WEEK

Inspired directly by Hitler's Nazi propaganda, Fritz Kuhn, whose role as fuhrer of the German-American Bund, is revealed in "March of Time's" latest release, "Inside Nazi Germany." How Hitler controls sixty million German people, equipping them for war in an aggressive military program summed up in the slogan "cannon not butter," how he has segregated Jews into ghettos, broken into the traditional worship of Protestants and Catholics, and launched a world propaganda movement in which the United States is involved, is brought to the screen dramatically and exclusively by the camera of March of Time in its latest release, "Inside Nazi Germany."

Wallace Beery and Dennis O'Keefe in "The Bad Man of Brimstone"

"BAD MAN OF BRIMSTONE" TO BE AT PLAZA THEATRE STARTING THURSDAY

One of the year's outstanding spectacles will be shown starting Thursday at the Plaza Theatre with the coming of "The Bad Man of Brimstone," starring Wallace Beery in an epic saga of the lawless West.

Staged against the grim background of the West's most rugged panoramas, "The Bad Man of Brimstone" presents a saga of the unregenerate town of Brimstone, ruled with a ruthless six-gun by Wallace Beery.

Bringing to the screen all the talents which have endeared him to the hearts of America's picture-going millions, Beery is assisted by Dennis O'Keefe, recent cinematic discovery and by Virginia Bruce.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN'S "THE HURRICANE"
THRILLING ROMANCE OF SOUTH SEAS

Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Hurricane," released through United Artists.

Samuel Goldwyn knew that he had a truly great picture in "The Hurricane," which comes to the Plaza Theatre today, Saturday and Sunday, with Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall heading a great cast which includes Mary Astor, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, Maymound Massey, John Carradine and Jerome Cowan.

"The Hurricane," with its tender romance, its powerful drama, its picturesque setting and its amazing spectacle climax, is a story ready-cut to the screen's most heroic measure.

On the low island of Manukura, 600 miles from Tahiti, two native sweethearts, Terangi and Marama are wed. Their brief happiness is shattered when Terangi, returning to Tahiti on the trading schooner of which he is first mate, is imprisoned for striking a white man who insults him.

After five years of unsuccessful attempts, the boy escapes from Tahiti and makes his way to his native island. Because of the implacable sense of duty of the French Administrator, however, he is forced to hide on a neighboring island.

The search for him is at its height when a great hurricane begins to blow up. Unmindful of his own safety, the youth goes to Manukura to warn the inhabitants. In the fury that follows, he plays a heroic part, and the hurricane scenes provide one of the most thrilling and powerful climaxes the screen has ever shown.

A CHEERFUL
LITTLE EARFUL

(By Philip Kasper)

CHEERIO SAYS:

It's the one who can smile
When things go dead wrong—
In the face of defeat
Sings a gay little song.
Though cares and worries come
To shove you off your lot.
Hold on, be cheerful, old boy
Smile and sing, you'll stay on top.

Advice To The Lovelorn

By Nellie Tellem

Girls! What's the use of being as fit as a fiddle when you haven't a beau? And beware of running after men, there's danger of becoming beaulegged. After all it's not the exciting curves for which men leave the straight and narrow.

It's perfectly conventional to love men who smoke pipes, but it's very inconvenient, unless they're removed. Being slim or fat isn't like being pleasingly plump. You might have a slim chance of getting a husband, or the fellows might poke fun at your "expanse."

You can save yourself a great deal of disappointment by going to church early before the hymns (hims) are passed out.

Stimulation

A mouse that had taken up a new cavity in a wine cellar was down in the mouth, like a dentist, over the constant vigil of a big Tom cat. He heard of mice being pawed to death and so realized that any cat can be a cat's ankle but it takes a Tom cat to be a cat's paw. Yes, he nearly lost his life the day before and so it was with extreme caution he toed his way across the cellar. An occasional drop of wine from one of the kegs formed a small pool into which Mr. Mouse accidentally slipped and then sipped. Having heard that curiosity killed a cat he took a chance on licking his paws. Visions of the cat licking his chops after a final gulp of Mr. Mouse, still held fears in him. "Gosh, but that tasted good," murmured the mouse. Intentionally his paws slipped into the pool again and came out for another dry cleaning. "Hot diggedy dog," whooped the mouse as he leaped into the pool with his fur coat on. Sitting up in the pool he licked himself thirstily of the invigorating fluid. In the mood for love, or extermination, he scampered up the cellar stairs bristling with wine, vigor and vitality. Reaching the top he threw out his hairy chest and shouted lustily: "Where is that damned cat?"

Spirited Ambition

A little ant while snooping around a dead horse, was lured to the neck of a corkless bottle from which enticing fumes were fuming. Necking his way in he was magnetized to the exhilarating liquid at the far end. Approaching the glistening pool he dunked his head and quaffed of the sparkling liquor. He shimmied his antennae, shivered his throat, wiggled his proboscis and swung his rudder about, and did the big apple on his way out. With eyes a bulge he grabbed hold of the horse's tail and vociferously roared: "Come on big boy, let's go home."

Moral: Artificial stimulation and ambition has its momentary benefits. Its potent and expeditious results are highly respected, even more so than old age, excluding of course, the bottle variety.

Palm Springs Library Notes

The Riverside County Library has sent a few new books which we may use for a month. Those in the present shipment are:

Tale of Ball, by Vicki Baum; The Turning Wheels, by Cloete; I Write As I Please, by Durant; Beyond Sing the Woods, by Gulbransen; Something of Myself, by Kipling; The Return to Religion, by Link.

There are also some detective stories and several picture books for younger children.

WILDFLOWER SHOW ON DESERT ASSURED

Rains of the past week reached as far east as Coachella, bringing promise of a wildflower show over a great expanse of desert.

Copious rains of last season caused seed to mature, and the recent rains should be all that is necessary to bring about a big wildflower display between the present time and the first of May.

Fritz Truan 1938 Rodeo Champion

Palm Springs rodeo bronc riding champion for 1938 is Fritz Truan who scored the highest number of points in heated competition here last Saturday and Sunday at the Palm Springs Field Club before thousands of spectators.

Other results of the 1938 Palm Springs rodeo are: Bronc riding contest—second place won by Stub Bartley; third place by Turk Greenlough of Red Lodge, Montana.

Brahma steer riding championship won by Johnnie Schneider; Bud Cook, second; Leo Ferris, third.

Bulldogging title won by Clay Carr; Johnny Bowman, second; Cherokee Alcorn, second.

Calf roping won by John Bowman; Vic Rogers, second; Clay Carr, third. Bareback bronc riding trophy won by Hank Mills; Carl Dossey, second; Leo Ferris, third.

Winners of awards in the review of the grand entry parade were: Dick Dickson presented the Desmond's trophy for best silver mounted entry; Miss Pat Percival, 1938 Palm Springs rodeo queen presented queen trophy by Dr. Henry Hoagland, president of the Palm Springs Field Club; Lynn Wright won the Roger's Stables trophy for best working equipment;

Mrs. McClure named winner of Earle Strebe trophy for having best matched Arabian horses silver mounted; Sheriff Mounted Posse of San Bernardino County presented trophy for best sheriff mounted posse; Riverside Sheriff Mounted Posse, second; Antelope Valley Sheriff Mounted Posse, third; Miss Lawrence, better known as Miss Oceanside won best silver mounting for ladies trophy.

Bertha Blanchard, who rode at the lead of the grand entry parade, was presented to the audience. Little Bear, famed Palm Springs horsewoman, carried the stars and stripes, at the head of the daily parades down Palm Canyon Drive.

Others who presented trophies were The Desert Inn, Hotel El Mirador, Deep Well Guest Ranch, Smoke Tree Guest Ranch, Hotel del Tahquitz, Hotel the Oasis, and others.

Praise for the success of planning and staging the second annual Palm Springs Rodeo goes to Les Vance, Andy Jauregui and Earle Strebe who spent many hours working on the details of the event.

Motion picture theatres throughout the country will be showing scenes and action taken by newsreel cameras at the Palm Springs rodeo. Among newsreel companies photographing the Palm Springs event were Universal, Paramount, and Hearst Metrotone.

Flower Sale Nets $146 For the Blind

The proceeds of the flower sale in Palm Springs last Saturday amounted to $145.96 to benefit the American Brotherhood For the Blind.

This money will be used by the Brotherhood in publishing Braille books and magazines which are free to the blind of America.

Special thanks are due the young people for their fine efforts in selling the flowers.

The Brotherhood wishes to thank all who helped in any way to make the flower sale a success in Palm Springs.

Chicago Woman Buys Two Famous Grimm Paintings

Mrs. G. M. Meichant of Chicago, recently purchased from the Findlay Galleries, "Springtime on the Desert" and "Windswept Sand," two very fine paintings from the brush of Local Artist Paul Grimm.

Mrs. Meichant probably owns one of the finest collections of paintings in Chicago, which includes an extremely noteworthy one, "The Butterfly," by Hovesp Pushman, that has been in many loan collections. The guest of the Desert Inn while here, Mrs. Meichant came to Palm Springs directly from Honolulu, where she spent several weeks visiting the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Pawling and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stark returned to Palm Springs on Wednesday after a visit of several days at Las Vegas, to Hoover Dam, and other points of interest in that vicinity.

Patsy Kelly enjoyed the diversion of the Palm Springs Bowling Academy Tuesday night.

Community Church Has
Drive for Funds

Commencing last Monday the Community church began its annual campaign to provide the budget necessary to carry forward the work of the church during the next twelve months.

Under John Sprague as captain, twelve or fifteen workers are calling upon the people of Palm Springs soliciting their financial aid in this enterprise. A budget has been carefully drawn up by the executive committee.

The campaign will terminate on Monday evening, Feb. 21st when a Victory Dinner will be tendered the solicitors at the Desert Inn. The following letter was sent out to upward of one thousand interested friends of the Community Church.

The official board this week sent out the following letter:

"Dear Friends: The church and the schools are the most important institutions in Palm Springs. They stand for morality and decency; they seek to create that atmosphere in which boys and girls shall have every chance to grow up into clean and wholesome manhood and womanhood. They seek to make good citizens.

"The church goes farther; it provides religious education for the young.

"It maintains the spiritual life of our community; it affords uplifting services to that always large number of local people as well as visiting guests who are church-minded.

"It brings comfort to the sick, the sorrowing and the lonely.

"The schools are supported by taxation.

The church is supported by the voluntary gifts of all the people in our village and our guests.

"The maintenance of our beautiful church edifice, its lighting, heating, janitor service, operation of the Bible School, the music and the pulpit, insurance etc., are matters of concern to everyone in Palm Springs.

"Once a year a budget is drawn up by the executive board and the people are asked to underwrite it. The date set for the canvass to start is January 31st.

"So far as possible this letter goes out to every property owner, permanent and temporary guests, employees, in fact, all who make up our community.

"You will confer a great favor if you respond generously and promptly by sending your gift for this purpose to the church treasurer, Mr. C. S. Henderson.

"We solicit your continued and prayerful interest not only in the success of the canvass but for the church, that it may accomplish its destined purpose in this community.

"Our Bible School is growing rapidly, our services are largely attended, and the opportunities for service increasing.

"You will have these things in mind when making up your gift.

"Sincerely, The Official Board:

Trustees: Henry Wick, chairman, C. S. Henderson, treasurer, Theodore Zschocke, secretary, Katherine Finch, Joseph Schobe, Mrs. Jack Hill, Gordon Nicholson, John Sprague.

Session: Carl Lykken, Jack Williams, Howard Ames.

"John Robertson Macartney, Pastor."

The Nev.-Cal. Electric Bowling team again disregarded the feelings of their Kegler friends by taking 3 points from the Coca Cola boys. In the absence of Bill Seaton who is undergoing an operation in a Los Angeles hospital, Herm Iselin again found the well-known groove and toppled the pins for a fine series of 554, having a high game of 225. The El Paseo boys trimmed the Smoke Tree Ranch five for 3 points and went into a tie for second place with Coca Cola. Bank of America and Safeway Stores split 4 points.

Westwood Tennis To Bowl Here

Palm Springs bowling fans will have an opportunity to witness a fast bowling match at the local bowling academy when the Westwood 875 team will compete with local stars, Sunday evening, February 6th. A ladies' team will also journey down to cross pins with a ladies' team from here.

(For bowling information: ask Ken Smith at the bank how to bowl those snappy games of 90.)

Desert Inn Galleries

It is a rare privilege to see such outstanding work as the sculpture show which is now being exhibited through the Desert Inn Galleries. The Galleries have been concerned for the past several years with a desire to bring to Palm Springs and its patrons the best possible representations of contemporary art. Every effort and change has been with that idea in mind.

It is therefore with some pleasure that they announced being able to show the work of Anna Coleman Ladd who brought her beautiful pieces of sculpture from New York for the present exhibit. The larger pieces have been placed on the lawn of the Desert Inn grounds between Bullock's and the out-door dining room where the public is invited to see them. Smaller pieces are being shown within the Gallery.

Among the outdoor pieces is a lovely bronze called "Baby Pan," a sprightly little fellow with his pipes and an impish look on his face. There is an extra appealing quality to this statue, though perhaps it is not the most important in the group of twelve which is showing.

A small, standing figure of Amelia Earheart has brought much praise from the visitors to the Gallery where it is being shown. She stands at ease, helmet in hand, hair flying, the typical pose which endeared her to the American people. A fitting tribute to a beloved personality.

The Galleries are also showing choice canvases by ten different painters. Paul Lauritz, Carl Hoerman, Conrad Buff, Nell Walker Warner, Gounod Romandy, John Hilton, Eugene Franquinet, John H. Sharp, Frederic J. Behre, and Agnes Pelton are all represented by various scenes which are fine examples of their particular line of work. Desert landscapes are a specialty with the Desert Inn Galleries and the best possible canvases available are in this collection.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huessman, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Anderson, and Mrs. C. M. Cotton, who spent the week-end at El Mirador, were guests of the Robert Ransoms for cocktails Saturday afternoon. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Burch Greene of Los Angeles, who were visiting Miss Theresa Fields, and Miss Fields.

Mrs. W. H. Weale is visiting Palm Springs for the week, the guest of her sister, Miss Helen McEwen.

The hunting season is on for sharpshooting camera sharks with the official opening of the Palm Springs Photo contest taking place last Tuesday, Feb. 1. Until midnight, March 27, closing date of the competition, no person, place or thing is safe from the seeking lens of the entrants.

A grand prize of a $125.00 movie camera has been offered by the Palm Springs Associates, sponsors of the contest. This prize will be awarded the picture acclaimed best by the judges of the contest, Ralph Braddock, Charles Kerlee and Robert Freeman. Mr. Braddock is rotogravure editor of the Los Angeles Times; Mr. Kerlee is a nationally-recognized commercial photographer; and Mr. Freeman is art director for the well-known Lord & Thomas advertising agency.

Other prizes of merchandise orders on local firms, ranging from $15 to $250 will be awarded pictures in the various classes of competition, as well as in a popular contest decided by votes of spectators at the opening day of the photograph show. All entries in the contest will be displayed from the closing date until April 10 in the Desert Museum in the Plaza. Entry blanks and contest information may be obtained at the Museum.

Only one class in the contest is open to professional photographers. It is open in all classes to amateurs, using any type of camera. Prizes will be given for scenic shots, personalities, and action shots, and pictures must have been taken during the current season—since October 1—within a 50-mile radius of Palm Springs.

This is the second annual photographic contest. Last year the event was sponsored by the Desert Inn, with a varied collection of beautiful pictures resulting.

Prizes

First prize—Grand award for the best picture in the show will be a $125.00 Eastman 16mm. magazine loading movie camera to be given by the Palm Springs Associates.

Popular choice award—The prize-winning photograph in this classification will be chosen by a popular vote of the spectators attending the show the opening day.

First prize—Popular award—$15 in merchandise order.

Second prize—Popular event—$5.00 merchandise order.

Third prize—Popular award—$2.50 merchandise order.

Classes and Prizes

1. Landscape and scenic:

First prize—$15 merchandise order.

Second prize—$5.00 merchandise order.

Third prize—$2.50 merchandise order.

2. Action and candid photos:

These can include people, animals, night and day, spot news, and miscellaneous photographs.

First prize—$15.00 merchandise order.

Second prize—$5.00 merchandise order.

Third prize—$2.50 merchandise order.

3. Professional photographers' pictures:

Professional photographers are not eligible for any of the above prizes. However, they may submit photographs of any nature under this classification and be eligible for the following awards:

First prize—$15.00 merchandise order.

Second prize—$5.00 merchandise order.

Third prize—$2.50 merchandise order.

Type of Equipment

Pictures can be taken with any type of camera from a small Kodak to an 8x10 view camera. State type of film used, camera, exposure and filters.

Photo requirements: Any contestant can submit photographs in as many classes as he desires. However, not more than five photographs can be submitted in each class.

Photographs must be taken in Palm Springs or within a 50-mile radius, and they must be photographs taken during the present season. (The season is considered as from October 1 to closing date of contest.)

Mountings: All photographs submitted must be not smaller than 7x9 or larger than 11x14. 7x9 photos should be mounted on 14x18 plain, white board. 8x10 photos should be mounted on 16x20 plain, white board.

Photographs can be either glossy or dull finish.

All winning photographs and negatives must be available for the use of the Palm Springs Associates.

The decision of the judges in all cases shall be final.

Important: Submit your entries early. Do not wait until closing date.

The photographic committee of the Palm Springs Associates consists of

ON THE GOLF COURSE

Notes received from the first tee: G. P. McNear, San Francisco, 80 years of age, shooting a snappy 42 on the first nine, and playing 18 holes daily. Mrs. Charles Correll sank her trap shot on number 8, thereby winning the hole instead of losing it to "Andy." Skinny Ennis of Paramount Studios, in a twosome with Chas. Bodin, the strong man of Palm Springs, Charlie had a 72 in the wind. Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Ulrich of Alderwood, C. C. Portland, where Mr. Ulrich is a director, has been enjoying our desert course. Handicapped by the loss of an arm, this fine golfer has been shooting in the low 40's. Charles Correll and Mrs. Correll enjoying a round with Al Epstein.

Twosomes and foursomes enjoying a round: Mrs. H. H. Timken, Canton, Ohio, and Mrs. Thos. O'Donnell, Palm Springs, Mrs. H. Cook, New York, and Mrs. C. DeLaitre, Minneapolis. Scores: Mrs. DeLaitre, 39, Mrs. T. O'Donnell, 41, Mrs. H. H. Timken, 44, for the nine. J. C. Wells, C. M. Wells and C. DeLaitre seen daily. W. M. Giblin, Chicago, playing 18 holes with Nat. Talmadge as a scorer. Joe Penner, Mr. and Mrs. George Ring in a threesome. Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Sweitzer, Vermont, and P. T. Doyle, Akron. Score: Mrs. Sweitzer, 80, Mr. Sweitzer, 72, Mr. Doyle, 83.

Much interest is being shown for the coming men's tournament. This event will be strictly an invitation affair. These are now in the mail. Only one hundred and fifty entries will

PALM SPRINGS PARTY APPLIES FOR RIGHTS ON WHITEWATER RIVER

Hearing upon the application of Stuart D. Allen, Palm Springs, to appropriate 2 cubic feet per second from Whitewater river in Riverside county for irrigation of 80 acres about 7 miles northwest of Palm Springs, was called by Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly for Wednesday, February 2, at 11 a. m. in Riverside.

The hearing was upon a formal protest which has been filed by Coachella Valley County Water District, Coachella, which claims a prior right to the use of said waters. Other interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard.

The hearing was conducted by Harold Conkling, deputy state engineer.

The decision will be made by the Department of Public Works at Sacramento.

New Club Opens Tomorrow With A Fine Program

The new $100,000 Palm Springs Tennis Club, one of the finest of its kind in the country, will celebrate its informal opening tomorrow afternoon (Saturday), Feb. 5, with the formal opening of the club following about three weeks later.

Tomorrow's opening will be for members and invited guests only. It will start off with a buffet luncheon at 1 o'clock, served on the grass beside the uniquely shaped and lovely swimming pool. While luncheon is in progress there will be a diving exhibition by Harold "Dutch" Smith and Mickey Riley, former Olympic champions.

Following the luncheon the members and their guests will enjoy some really fine tennis matches.

Competing in these matches will be Les Stoefer, the club's popular professional, who holds a top position among the professionals of the world; Joe Hunt and Jack Tidball, two of the country's best players, and Frank Shields, who before he entered movie work was one of the world's outstanding amateur players.

The feature of the exhibition tennis will be a singles match between Les Stoefer and Sidney Wood. There will also be a doubles match, Stoefer and Joe Hunt vs. Wood and Jack Tidball. The tennis matches will absorb most of the afternoon. One of the attractions of the day will be music furnished by The Dunes orchestra during the luncheon.

The Palm Springs Tennis Club, one of the smartest and most uniquely designed in the country, is the realization of a dream of Mrs. Austin G. McManus, pioneer citizen of Palm Springs. Mr. and Mrs. McManus, owners and developers of the beautiful new club, have leased the club for five years to Philip G. Ormsby, Lester Stoefer and Fred Le Blond, Jr.

The club is the architectural creation of the firm of Philip G. Ormsby-Lloyd Steffen, architects. The tennis courts and unique swimming pool were put in by the Paddock Engineering, Ltd., and the smart club house and other buildings were constructed by H. H. Foster, prominent local contractor.

Among the many notables who have signified their intention of attending the opening day events at the new club house are Johnny Mack Brown, Freeman Gosden and Jack Warner.

Aged Cyclist

how it held together. Later the old fellow said that the bike had been buried for over a year and had been run over twice, once by a train and once by a truck.

Soon a large crowd had gathered, and he began to go through his complete line of stunts. He did such things as ride the bike while standing on his head on the seat, riding with the front wheel and handle bars off, and many others which held the crowd spellbound.

The old gentleman's name is Harry Kramer, and he has been in the show business for over fifty years. He started out to become a cyclist when he was 13 years old. Born and raised on a farm, he went into town one day to see a carnival, and while there he saw an acrobat do some stunts on a bike. Right then and there he made up his mind he was going to learn how to do some of those tricks, so he studied this fellow's act, and when he went home he began to practice. Every time his father went to town he would wheel out his bike and practice these tricks, but eventually his father discovered what the boy was doing and forbade him to waste his time with such foolishness, and then hid the boy's bike.

After two weeks search young Harry found the bike and practiced daily. After another year he felt confident and decided to hit the road and become a trooper. Since then he has traveled all over the world, played in carnivals, circuses, and show houses, doing his act.

He used to have fine costumes and shiny bicycles, but he says that he makes more now in a month or two by doing his act on street corners than he used to make in a year on the stage. He claims now he is clearing between ten and twenty dollars a day, which is indeed a just reward for his years of patient practicing.

Mr. Kramer has been married twice, both of his wives having died, leaving him with a large family. He has a large farm in the South, is keeping four of his children in boarding school, one boy is with him, and the rest have gone out on their own.

So if you should happen to see this old man some time and marvel at his agility and stunts, think also that he isn't just a poor broken down old man trying to get along in this world, but a man who has seen life, traveled all over the world, provided for his old age, taken care of a large family, and he can say with sincerity that he is a success.

County Fair

be a welcome change, and those that come from the coast can shake the winter chill from their shoulders for awhile, as they saunter around the fair.

Citrus fruits that could vie with any that ever came through the Damascus from Jaffa will stand in beautiful display and thirst can be slaked with brews as unique as tangerine juice. Sweets to the sweet, of every kind.

Commercial exhibits, instructive as well as attractive, manufacturing exhibits of unusual foods, and display booths of outstanding beauty house themselves over Egyptian canopies.

Big Jim. Will Rogers' pet, will be seen and horses will dance quadrilles to music fit for the best town cut-up that ever tripped a fantastic step. And these horses have something.

To keep the visitors from "bibing too much of that tangerine juice" "The Drunkard" will teach them a moral lesson while they split your sides over the old Barnum masterpiece of meller-drammer. A Hollywood and New York troupe, coming down from Palm Springs every afternoon, returning in the evening to tighten up the champagne fiber of that locale in the evening.

The Mission Indians from Martinez reservation will dance in regalia, fire-eating, bird dancing, and playing peon; and the Torres Martinez band will strike notes as varied and colorful as their blankets.

Abe Lefton of Madison Square Garden will be there to pass remarks through the mike.

On Saturday morning the agricultural commissioners will start on a trek through the valley. Guides and cars will be furnished by residents. They will take in Palm Springs, La Quinta, and others of the beautiful spots to be seen in the great Coachella, in the midst of which are tropical gardens grown particularly for show purposes.

When the Stampede begins tomorrow (Saturday) at 10:30 a. m., the popular sheriff of Los Angeles county, Gene Biscailuz, is expected to lead the two-mile parade. Leo Carrillo and other personalities of screen and radio will be in the line-up. The sheriff's posse from Riverside county will ride a hundred strong and other mounted groups from the Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Orange counties will assure public safety as they ride. Ingenious floats, whoopee-cad cowboys will step high, heralded and cheered with bands of different sorts.

Old four and six-in-hand stage coaches will bring back the glory of the pony express, and a queen will ride on her beautiful float, with her glamorous attendants surrounding her and will be crowned in the evening in her court at the fair.

Lipps Advocates

ent set-up certain sections of the county are not getting proper consideration, as it is impractical for the board of supervisors to care for the interests of the entire county. Little doubt was left as to what part of the county he thought was getting the unfair treatment.

Lipps informed the assembled group that he intended to keep on bringing up these resolutions until he learned whether the people of Palm Springs want or do not want The Dunes and gambling.

Following Lipps' second resolution, the motion to adjourn was passed, without any favorable comment having been made upon either resolution. In neither case did anyone second the motions made by Lipps that the resolutions be adopted.

One new member, the Rose Hotel, was accepted at the meeting Tuesday night.

It was unanimously decided to not allow removal of the Palo Verde tree next to the Palm Springs Drug Co., and Herb Samson was voted a committee of one to see to it that some gardener accept the responsibility for having the Palo Verde trees on Palm Canyon Drive trimmed properly from time to time.

The Chamber adopted a resolution at the request of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce relevant to hearings this month on reciprocal trade agreements with Turkey concerning tariffs on raisins and figs.

President Roosevelt's proposal to allocate gas tax funds for other purposes than roads was discussed, and it was moved and carried that the matter be turned over to the road committee, headed by George Roberson, with power to act.

A protest was made against holiday peddlers on the Palm Springs highway who park alongside the road vending grapefruit, dates, ice cream, etc. It was suggested that action be taken to remove any of these peddlers not acting within the law. Peddlers on private property cannot be touched if they have the owner's permission, it seems, but those on the highway must have a license. It was moved and passed that the secretary look into the matter of the highway vendors, and that property owners be asked not to allow these fellows to peddle on their land.

Frank Shannon, acting treasurer of the President's Ball, which was held last Saturday evening at the Racquet Club, gave his report, which follows:

The Friendly Aid Committee received $345.75 for local relief, $260.75 being 70 per cent of the net proceeds from the President's ball and $85.00 donations. The national infantile paralysis association received $111.75 from Palm Springs. Total tickets sold were 149 at $5.00 each, making a total of $745.00 taken in. The Racquet Club received $372.50 of this for meals and service.

missioners: A. F. Hicks, John Kline and Charles Bosworth, and the members of the volunteer fire department, deserve the wholehearted support of the community. On the other hand, the villagers can be justly proud of their fire-fighting institution.

Fire Department Installs New Alarm System

(By Philip Kasper)

The curfew shall not ring tonight, because it must be blown. Fire bells and sirens will soon be classified as antiques in fire warning service. The latest instrument is the "Diaphone," a classical moniker for a harsh blasting horn, which receives its potential energy from a huge tank of air carrying 150 pounds pressure.

The Gamewell alarm system, with its intricate and fundamental equipment, was installed in the fire department by Bernal L. Reasoner of Gamewell's Los Angeles office. Any additions, like the placing of fire alarm boxes at important centers of town, will not call for more equipment.

The alarms will be received over the telephone as usual, but instead of pushing a button and holding it in until a sufficient signal is given, a code wheel representing the district in which the fire is burning, is placed in the Vitaguard unit, a lever is pushed and the alarm automatically and without further help sounds and repeats the alarm as often as four times.

The advantage of the system enables the fire truck to get on its way immediately and perhaps arrive at the scene of the fire before the alarm ceases. The volunteers listening to the selection of blasts know in what locality the fire is and can go directly to the scene. Heretofore, the volunteers had to go to the station to find out where the fire was. Not being a musical instrument (neither is an alarm clock for that matter), the diaphone gives a loud blast lasting from 5 to 10 seconds with the accent on the last syllable of the intermittent toots.

With the addition of the new alarm system, Palm Springs receives the highest approval of efficiency from the Board of Fire Underwriters. The new truck and equipment gives the village a distinctive rating, placing it in a class, uncomparable.

The untiring efforts of the fire com-
